

CRIME DECREASES UNDER DRY LAWS, ASSERTS SPEAKER

Frank Regan Opens Flying Squadron Meetings In Christian Church.

OTHER COUNTRIES ARE AIDING WETS

Speaker Also Says Strict Enforcement Brings Lower Taxes.

There are only half as many people in jail and only 60 per cent of as much crime as when the country had saloons, according to Frank S. Regan of Rockford, Ill., former member of the Illinois legislature, who addressed meetings Thursday afternoon and evening at the Christian church.

Mr. Regan is a member of the Flying Squadron, which is holding a three-day session at this church in the interest of prohibition and law enforcement.

"Eighty-one per cent of the country was dry before the United States adopted the eighteenth amendment, and 61 per cent of the people lived in dry territory," Mr. Regan explained in pointing out that prohibition was not something that had been "put over" on the people.

The speaker's address had to do with the tax question and all through his discourse he used his crayons and white paper, emphasizing his points with figures.

High tax rates could be reduced materially if it were not for rich tax dodgers and "rum-controlled" political rings, and tax rates are lowest where prohibition laws are strictly enforced, according to Mr. Regan.

Fighting Whole World
An exhibit displayed by the speaker was a membership card in the Association Opposed to Prohibition, which he declared was an amalgamation of 32 such organizations. This card bore the names of many of the richest men in America, who are all tax dodgers, Regan claims.

The wets of America have a campaign fund of $2,000,000,000 to fight prohibition, Mr. Regan said. In this fund are large contributions from foreign countries who are interested in seeing the present law repealed. "We are fighting the whole world," he said.

"Kansas is the only state where they have not arrested a prohibition enforcement officer for crookedness. I have more respect for the thug on the street than for the man in office who robs the people and draws a salary."

To date the squadron's workers have visited 763 towns and all of the 48 states.

Alfred L. Moudy, a noted educator and lecturer, speaks at the Friday sessions and on Saturday, the closing day, Oliver W. Stewart, president of the Flying Squadron Foundation and editor of the National Enquirer, and Norma C. Brown will be the speakers.

LEVIATHAN, GIANT LINER, STRANDED

Queen Of Seas Is Aground Off New York Harbor; Lost In Fog.

New York, Dec. 21.—Stranded in the harbor mud by an ebbing tide, the Leviathan "queen of the seas," foundered hopelessly this afternoon with little hope of release until the tide comes in again at 8 p. m.

The giant American liner, the biggest afloat, stranded off Robbins' reef as it crept into the harbor this morning enveloped in a dense fog which took the pilot off the course. As the ship grounded the stevedores brought tags to her rescue but they tugged and nosed without avail and the Leviathan sank deeper into the mud, listing slightly. Her 1600 passengers crowded the rails watching the vain efforts of the powerful little tug boats.

It was the Leviathan's last trip of the season. She was well on her way to exceed the record when the fog slowed her down.

Many of the impatient passengers wanted to be put on harbor boats and taken ashore but Captain Hartley refused permission, claiming it would be too dangerous.

OPPOSE STATE BUILDING SITE

Directors Of Chamber Of Commerce Do Not Want Building On Statehouse Grounds.

Directors of the Salem Chamber of Commerce are opposed to the erection of the proposed $4,000,000 office building on the statehouse grounds in Columbus. That decision was made at a meeting Thursday afternoon in response to a letter from the Columbus Chamber of Commerce requesting the local body to take some action.

Some time ago the commission appointed by the general assembly to fix the site for the building reported that it would be most expedient to erect it on Statehouse square instead of on a site that would have to be purchased.

Heavy cost of materials that would be necessary to make the new building like the statehouse, and the marling of the grounds are given as the reasons for the dissent by the Chamber of Commerce in Columbus, and of the Salem body.

BOOZE FOUND IN BROADWAY CAFES

Ritchie Gets Evidence But Hotel Man Flees; One Man Fined $800.

Prohibition Officer Earl Ritchie raided two places on Broadway Thursday night, finding liquor in both. At the Broadway hotel Ritchie claims he seized a glass of liquor which Emilio Ciccozzi, alleged proprietor was handing to a customer. Ciccozzi fled before Ritchie could arrest him, but the officer confiscated three punts of liquor.

Ritchie locked the hotel to hold the furnishings until the proprietor returns. During the night some one broke in, taking the money from the cash register and cigars from the case.

M. Gramma, arrested by Ritchie at 124 Broadway, was given a hearing before Mayor A. W. Ferren at East Palestine Friday morning. He pleaded guilty to possession and paid his fine of $800 and costs.

CONGRESS TO GET BONUS BILL AFTER HOLIDAY RECESS

Plan To Force Bill Out Is Completed; Compromise Bill Is Offered.

Washington, Dec. 21.—The soldiers' bonus bill will be thrust before the house immediately after congress reconvenes Jan. 3, according to plans matured today by bonus advocates. Unless the ways and means committee is ready then to begin consideration of the McKenize bill, which is backed by the American Legion, a Republican conference will be forced and this conference will instruct the committee to bring out the bill, bonus advocates said today.

Republican leader Longworth expects the ways and means committee to finish its study of the administrative and simplification features of the existing tax laws early in January. Committee members said today they had made good progress with consideration of this legislation and had found little in the recommendations of Secretary Mellon, of such a controversial character as to necessitate lengthy consideration.

Compromise in the bonus legislation are being sought. A new plan suggested is that the former service men entitled to it shall have refunded to them in lieu of bonus, money they paid for insurance and their contributions to the support of dependents while they were in the service.

Objections raised to this plan are that the cash outlay under it will exceed the immediate cash payments under the McKenize bonus bill, which is the bill President Harding vetoed. An estimate of the cost of the substitute plan is being made.

DAWES TO PRESIDE OVER PROBE INTO GERMAN SITUATION

Chicago Banker Is Elected President Of Allied Committee.

TO INVESTIGATE FOOD SITUATION

Committee Also To Probe German Wealth In Foreign Countries.

Paris, Dec. 21.—Charles G. Dawes, Chicago banker and first director of the United States budget, today was designated president of the first committee that will investigate Germany's capacity for reparations payments.

The nomination was made by the inter-allied reparations commission under whose sponsorship the inquiry will be conducted.

Appointment of Dawes was regarded as a signal honor to the United States. Also it puts the Americans in a position of importance during the course of the investigation. It was accepted as a foregone conclusion that Owen D. Young, of New York, chairman of the board of directors of the General Electric company, would be designated another American member. There are to be three members from all the participating countries.

The reparations commission decided to refer Germany's request for a loan to the various allied governments.

Recommendation was made that the governments invite the reparations commission's "guarantee committee" to investigate Germany's food situation. Sir John Bradbury, British member of the reparations commission, has nominated a British member of the investigating committee and it was expected that these nominations would be confirmed without delay.

Even if the committees are completed before Christmas it was anticipated that the committees will not be able to get down to work until about the middle of January.

The French are particularly anxious to ascertain the amount of German wealth held in foreign countries. It is claimed that the German properties in America alone are worth hundreds of millions of dollars and French claims that Germany holds much wealth in other foreign countries, notably Great Britain, Scandinavia, Switzerland and Holland.

SHIPPING BOARD WILL BE CHANGED

Washington, Dec. 21.—The United States shipping board, bone of political contention since it was created back in the early days of the war, probably will be entirely remade by President Coolidge in the next few weeks, it was learned at the White House today.

As soon as the senate formally refuses to approve the nomination of Edward T. Farley, Chicago, the present chairman, as law seems certain, President Coolidge will proceed to nominate "his own man for the post," it was said.

Adverse report on Farley was made yesterday by the senate committee on commerce and only lack of time prevented the senate's acceptance of the report.

Mayor-Elect Schaeffer To Seek Co-operation Of City Council.

LAW ENFORCEMENT POLICY OUTLINED

Think City Should Reap The Benefit; Talks On Water Problem.

When J. B. "Jerry" Schaeffer becomes mayor of Salem, Tuesday, Jan. 1, liquor fines will go into the city treasury, instead of to some other city or to the state, if he has anything to say about it. He wants the co-operation of other city officials and the way to get it, he believes, is to go after it.

One of the first things Mayor-elect Schaeffer purposes to do is to go before city council with a request that he be given full power, through city ordinances, to go after the bootlegger, to fine him heavily and to see that the fines remain to the credit of the city.

That he will receive the co-operation of the city fathers in his law enforcement policy is already indicated by the desire of city council to help Mayor Post in every way possible, although that assistance was not accepted. With one exception, the city councilmen hold over for another term and it is expected that they will be more willing to co-operate with the new mayor since he seeks their co-operation.

His Water Views
Mayor-elect Schaeffer also desires to see the city water and the disposal plant problems settled at an early date. He is in favor of continuing the well supply and he would increase this supply by turning the water from the Garfield wells into the city mains.

State board of health officials as injurious to the health of the community. But Schaeffer believes that, since they were used for so many years without injurious results, they could be used now.

In his efforts to carry out his policies, Schaeffer will have the support of F. A. Rinehart as serviced director and C. W. Zimmerman as safety director. In a recent interview he intimated that light fines would not be the rule in his court, especially in liquor cases.

Schaeffer has had nine years experience as a city councilman and four years as president of council. He also served as acting mayor a short time.

The Girl Scouts are doing their "bit" to spread gladness on Christmas day.

Troop 2, captained by Miss Molly Carter, is filling baskets for two families.

Troop 5, captained by Miss Blanche Forney, is furnishing a trimmed Christmas tree, filling the stockings for the children in a family of eight and supplying the edibles for the Christmas dinner.

The Mexican Situation

THE Mexican situation is an alarming situation. It suggests the utter inability of its people to govern themselves. The warring aristocratic elements in that distracted country, left to themselves, never will be pacified; as to the middle, working and poor classes, they are the pawns, or victims, in an unending game for supremacy and power on the part of "liberators" who fly to arms under the alleged sanctions of high sounding principles of patriotism and humanity.

Conditions in Mexico, we regret to say, are largely due to the singularly weak and vacillating course of this government. True, we made some ineffectual bluffs by putting a military patrol on the border, by sending troops into Mexico after Villa, where our soldiers fought rattlesnakes, centipedes, cacti and sand, chasing that outlaw marauder and his ragged murderers, and where we lost a number of brave officers and men to no purpose whatever. But the trouble was, and continues to be, that the Mexicans have been held to be free, civilized people, animated by high principles of patriotism and entitled to the consideration properly accorded to such people.

Mexico remains an armed military camp, or rather it supports a number of armed military camps, ready for action whenever one of them feels strong enough to make its power felt. Issues in Mexico are not decided by ballots, but by bullets. The patriots hate each other and unite only in a common cause until they may overcome their common enemies; the lower classes frankly are inspired to banditry under any leader who promises them opportunities for loot. No foreigner's life has been secure in Mexico for 20 years, least of all the lives of Americans. Hope for better things dawned with the accession of Obregon, but that redoubtable soldier and promising administrator is meeting the same experience allotted to his predecessors, good and bad, strong and weak, mostly weak. He may put down the present revolt, or, more properly speaking, revolts, but the situation remains unchanged.

Mexico today is in worse situation than Cuba ever was, than Porto Rico, Panama or Haiti. Intervention in Mexican affairs may prove to be a dangerous adventure, but, if Mexico is bent upon self-destruction to the hurt of the world, the United States has a duty to perform which it cannot for ever evade.

20 YEARS AGO

Youngstown. The machinists union has decided to accept a reduction in wages made by the machine shop operators in this city. The reduction varies from 5 to 15 per cent and affects about 400 employees.

Charles Bonnell, bookkeeper for the Robert's Machine company, spent Sunday with his family here.

Mrs. Clyde Hademan of this city, went to Deane today to join her husband and make her home.

Miss E. A. Beck of Toledo, who has been employed at the Pickens military parlor, returned home Sunday afternoon.

Cincinnati. With the Ohio river frozen over and great gorges at many places, the rise of nearly three feet threatens danger to all kinds of craft.

It is reported that liquor dealers will counter the Ward local option bill by introducing one declaring all beverages containing less than 20 per cent of alcohol to be non-intoxicating. This will eliminate light wines and some of the makes of beer.

TOWN LIFE IN NEW REPUBLIC

Community Building in Czechoslovakia Includes Theater and Other Forms of Recreation.

Village life in Czechoslovakia is much fuller than the life on our main streets. As in most of Europe, the farmers do not live on isolated farms cut off by bad roads and weather from their neighbors, but after their work in the fields come back into town and have a real community life there—social, political meetings, dance and song festivals, sokol entertainments, outings, according to Viola L. Paradise and Helen Campbell in Scribner's.

In one village of only 1,200 inhabitants—a village consisting of a single street and down near the railroad station a malt factory owned co-operatively by the farmers in the village—was a community building erected a year ago with public funds—$90,000 crowns. It had a theater, lecture rooms, a well-equipped gymnasium, baths, a large garden, an athletic field, an excellent coffee house and restaurant and a number of rooms in which visitors to the village could be accommodated—the whole building modern and attractive.

The day we visited this village a play for children was being given in the theater, preparations for a sokol lecture in the evening were being made, in the coffee house men were reading papers from all over the country or were playing billiards or chess. The opera from the nearest city was to come next evening.

Solar System of Atom.

An interesting account of the modern theory of the atom is given in a recent work by Prof. J. A. Fleming. Briefly, it is a solar system in miniature. "The nucleus," says Professor Fleming, "corresponds to the central sun and the negative electrons to the planets circulating round it. If we desired to make a model, say of a helium atom, we might place a sphere, say the size of a football, at a certain position to represent the positively charged nucleus.

"Then at distances of about one and a quarter miles we should have to locate two golf balls to represent the two negative electrons and to assume that these were revolving round the football. The actual size of the atoms is so small that a million placed in a row, like marbles in conflict, would occupy length less than the thickness of the thinnest sheet of tissue paper."—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

FRANCE IS QUEEN OF THE AIR

She is Building Great Aerial Forces For Safety Against Attack by Germany.

The kingdom of the air is France's today, says a contributor to the New York Aerial Age. Her military air force is now quadruple England's. In commercial flying she leads the world.

"France leads the world in air transportation," it is said. "This commercial application of the airplane keeps alive her factories, among which orders are widely distributed in order to furnish as large an industry as possible. The technical progress essential for the improvement of commercial air transport is just as essential for the development of aeronautics as a means of national security—self-defense if you prefer. Her military air force is now four times larger than that of England. This, added to her commercial possibilities, gives her world command of the air.

"France has reason to be interested in air defense. Her late enemy, by whom she has been invaded every fifty years since before Christ, is but three hours away from her capital. The Versailles treaty hasn't disarmed Germany in the air. It is estimated that Germany today could equip an air force of 5,000 airplanes, during a period of diplomatic tension lasting eight or nine months. It is figured that at least seven months are needed by any nation to inaugurate an intensive manufacture of aircraft and their engines."

The Addict.

Among Jimmie Madden's favorite stories is the one concerning two gentlemen who were getting acquainted through the medium of casual conversation.

"Do you play golf?" inquired one of them.

"No," said the other, "but I can't give it up."

THE NEWS RADIO QUESTION BOX

Q—Is there more danger of lightning strike a house equipped with radio than one that is not? What would it do if it struck the antenna?

—J. B.
A—There is always danger during an electrical storm, no matter whether the house supports an antenna or not. There are only a few cases on record where lightning has hit an antenna, as against the hundred of time where houses with antenna have been struck. If lightning should hit an antenna it might follow it to the inside of the house or it might jump from the wire to some point to some other part of the house. A properly grounded antenna is a protection rather than a menace.

Q—How long should my aerial be made to receive all the broadcasting stations?—J. A. A.
A—It has been found that with the average radio-phonograph sets, an antenna about 125 feet long is to be recommended. The length of the lead wire is included in the length of the antenna proper.

Q—What is the cause of my howling whistling and grunting regardless of how I tune it?—S. A. M.
A—It may be any of the following: Tube not making proper contact with socket terminals; grid condenser shorted; plate leads touching grid condenser or its leads, or near them; excessive detector filament voltage.

STUBTOWN PROBE IS FAR-REACHING SAYS PROSECUTOR

Startling And Surprising Facts Revealed In 3-Weeks Probe.

Steubenville, Dec. 21.—Three weeks' inquiry into lax law enforcement conditions in Steubenville and Jefferson county together with a number of specific violations, have revealed many startling and surprising facts, Sherman S. Deaton, Urbana, special representative of Attorney General C. C. Crabbe, declared this morning prior to his departure for Columbus where he will confer with the attorney general regarding the investigation ordered by Gov. Donahay.

The investigator declared that during his inquiry here one thing has led to another and that the probe has been more far-reaching than was at first anticipated. He declared that he had been furnished with numerous surprises, but refused to divulge the nature of his information.

Deaton declared that he is unable to forecast when his inquiry will end. The investigator has been in consultation with scores of citizens and stated today that "people of all classes have come to me and have shown a desire to assist."

The "lid" is on right in Steubenville, new orders going out last night to "tighten up." The community awaits with anxious anticipation the result of the inquiry and the possibility of a special grand jury.

LOSING THE CAPITAL HELPED

Philadelphia's Growth Showed Moving of Government Was a Benefit on the Whole.

Would Philadelphia have been a greater or lesser city had it remained, as it was for a quarter of a century, the seat of congress?

It was the capital of the republic under the Constitution for ten years.

Pennsylvania was quick on the trigger to capture the national capital, says Girard in the Philadelphia Inquirer. Hardly had the ink of the signers dried upon the original copy of the United States Constitution before Philadelphia and Bucks county together offered to give the nation a block of land ten miles square.

That offer to the country made in the name of Pennsylvania was presented to congress.

The federal government was to have exclusive jurisdiction over that territory, but the city of Philadelphia itself, as it then existed, was to be excluded from the offer.

To further the move and make this the permanent national capital, Pennsylvania, which then owned Independence hall—always called state house in that day—offered congress the use of that building. It was then the state capital.

Congress took it for ten years. In the meantime Hamilton and Jefferson indulged in a political game of chess.

Hamilton swapped votes to remove the capital south to the Potomac and Jefferson yielded votes in favor of the government's assumption of state debts.

Seeing that Philadelphia has expanded two millions during the time Washington has grown a quarter of that perhaps Pennsylvania owes Hamilton and Jefferson a special monument for taking the capital away.

BANDITS FOILED BY A GIRL

How a Landlord's Daughter in Solis, France, Trapped Gang of Italian Robbers

A large number of southern Italians are employed on reconstruction work in Solis, which was within the area occupied by the Germans. The authorities have had little difficulty with them until the other day, when a band of six held up the customers of a local cafe.

The six entered separately, ordered drinks, then appeared to quarrel. In their quarrel they drew knives. Thereupon the proprietor ordered them to settle their dispute outside. His intervention evidently was the awaited signal, for he was overpowered and his customers ranged against the walls, while two of the band stood guard at the door. Thereupon they began to relieve everybody of valuables, and when resistance was shown a sharp prick of a knife followed.

The bandits had reckoned without the landlord's daughter, who, on the first signs of the robbery, slipped out a back window and aroused the neighborhood. When the bandits emerged with their spoils they were met by a discharge of shotguns. Four of them dropped in their tracks. The two survivors surrendered and were taken to jail.

Where Bananas Come From.

The ordinary fruit stand banana is grown chiefly in Jamaica, Costa Rica and other parts of tropical America. Some attempt has been made to grow them in California, Louisiana and in other states with warm climates, but this is more or less of an experiment because the plant cannot endure the slightest frost. As a novelty, a few banana plants have borne fruit in colder climates, but under special protection. It is interesting to note that the best and most tasty bananas are not known to most of us because they are too perishable to ship any distance. In the East Indies there are bananas that grow over a foot long and about two inches thick. These are not exported, but are used for home consumption.

Funeral Before Death.

Funeral services for an aged couple who are still alive were conducted recently at Kochi, Japan. The man, who is the proprietor of a fashionable restaurant, and his wife are both seventy, and it was their desire that their funeral should take place before their death.

A long cortege of "mourners" left the Kochi park, and all the procedure of the funeral service according to Buddhist rites was carried out in regular order at the Hongwan temple. After the service the couple entertained many of the "mourners" at a dinner, given to celebrate their longevity. They believe that the "funeral" has given them a new lease of life.

The Way of Fate.

"Even when a man gets elected to office he's liable to complain of his lot."

"It's a way fate has," said Senator Sorghum. "When a man gets what he wants it's liable to be handed to him with trimmings that will make him wish he hadn't wanted it."

Soothing an Indignation.

"Isn't there any way of quieting this man who is always making such a fuss about being a taxpayer?"

"Only one that I know of," answered Senator Sorghum. "Am doing the best I can to get him a job somewhere as a tax collector."

SPEAKER STRESS MILK SANITATION

Dairymen Of Fairfield Are Told How To Produce Better Milk.

The Pittsburgh District Dairy Council Extension workers twice Thursday, during the afternoon and evening, told the people in the vicinity of the Centralized school, Fairfield township, how to produce better milk and special stress was placed on the subject of "Sanitation."

"You've got to have clean barns and everything else about and around," declared Mrs. Jane H. Sauer of the extension department of the council. The Pittsburgh Dairy Council's composed of producers and distributors. Each interest provides a fund designed to the improvement of better milk and better health among children through the use of milk, but milk of the proper kind and tuberculin tested milk.

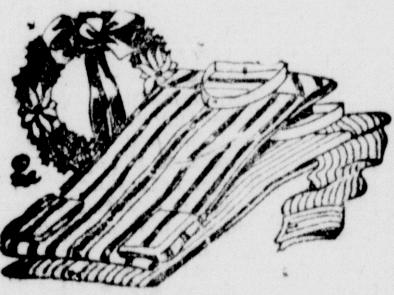

"The Turn in the Road" was the title of an educational film shown on the screen by the quartet of extension workers, the story being designed to show milk producers the right and wrong way to the road to profits.

The dramatic section of the demonstration, which was in the form of a pageant, was in charge of Miss DeWolf, while the discussion on nutrition was led by Miss Lillian Connell. The subject of sanitation was handled by Irwin Kaufman in charge of field production for the dairy council, and Mrs. Sauer explained the work of the extension department.

The features of the afternoon and evening was the presentation of the "Milk Fairy," in which seven children of the third, fourth and fifth grades of the Centralized school took part under the direction of Miss DeWolf.

This is the first time the complete program of the Pittsburgh District Dairy Council has been put on in this section of Ohio. The idea of the plan is to have the milk producers obtain a greater production through a quality of milk to market through the adoption of better methods of sanitation.

Deliveries In Time For Christmas

THE last minute man who dashes in at 5:30 and buys a lamp for his wife is assured by the merchant that the gift will be delivered in time for Christmas. Mr. Jones need have no anxiety—he lamp will be sent to-night.

But the prompt delivery of electric current to light the new lamp can't be assured by Mr. Jones no apprehension. He knows the electricity is there in the wires, waiting to flash into light. He knows the Christmas tree will sparkle with jewels when his hand touches the switch, and the red train of cars will spin around the track at his bidding.

More electricity is demanded by our city during December—the darkest month of the twelve—than at any other time in the whole year. Is it any wonder your electrical plant knows no holidays? Even on Christmas, electricity service is uninterrupted.

MYSTERY SHIP IN ICEBERG

Steamer Captain Rounding the Horn Goes Large Vessels Enclosed in Frozen Mass.

For centuries mystery ships have sailed the seas, guided only by the winds of chance. One of them was found by a steamer captain rounding the Horn recently, according to a writer in Popular Mechanics. While groping his way into the open, a giant mass of ice carrying a large, three-masted schooner, with its boats still in the rigging, was sighted. Efforts were made to find the survivors, but no trace of them was discovered. Another sea tragedy was added to the already long list of those as yet unsolved when a Greenland whaler came upon a strange looking derelict, battered and weather-worn, apparently built in the last century and icebound for years. A boarding crew found in the cabin the body of a young woman, preserved by the Arctic frosts. Near a long dead fire was the remains of a young man, still holding a flint and steel.

BRINGING UP FATHER

BY GEORGE McMANUS

WOMEN GROWING ROBUST

University Statistics Show Marked Physical Improvement in the Sex in America.

Let pessimists stew in their own bitter juice; the American woman is steadily growing taller, healthier, and more robust, more fit to take her own part and to mother a strong race.

Doctor Mosher of Stanford University, in a note reprinted from the California State Journal of Medicine, shows that the average height of Stanford women has risen from 62.4 inches in 1892 to 64 inches in 1921. That of Vassar women has risen from 63.2 inches in 1899 to 64 inches in 1921; that of South college women from 62.8 inches in 1892 to 64.2 in 1921.

Doctor Mosher gives some very interesting correlations between the increase in height and the increasing width of waist, the diminishing length and width of skirt, and physiological normality. The cause of the improvement, almost certainly, is the increased freedom of physical movement demanded by athletics and reluctantly licensed by fashions in women's clothes.

No man, it is written, may add a cubit to his stature by taking thought. The average woman has proved that she can add at least inches to her stature by taking exercise.—New Republic.

Getting Rid of Boll Weevils. A cotton grower in Arkansas has found a method that he says greatly lessens the number of boll weevils in his fields. In every area of two, or three acres he places a torch above pans of kerosene. At night the lighted torches attract the weevils, and sooner or later a large share of them are smothered and fall into the kerosene.—Youth's Companion.

In Sweaters you will not see a more complete line. Brushed wool and novelty close knits for sport wear. Plain and conservative coats for the business man. Heavy coats and work coats any thing you may desire. They are priced right. $2.50 to $10.00

RAISE BAR AGAINST WOMEN

Laws in Many of the States Still Deny Them Equal Rights With Men.

A survey of laws has established the fact that every discrimination complained of by women in 1848, except in the franchise, still exists in some parts of the country today, and that many of them are practically universal, writes Carol Relfish in The New Republic.

Except in the eight community property states, the services of the wife in the home are the property of the husband; in all but twelve states, prostitution is the act of the woman only and not of the man; practically everywhere women are paid less than men for the same work in both public and private employment.

In Georgia and Maryland, a father may will the children entirely away from the custody of the mother, and in Alabama he has the right to will away the child from the mother after it has reached the age of fourteen. In a number of states the father has a greater right than the mother to the control and guardianship of children, and to determine their education, their religious environment, etc.

In Vermont and Georgia a married woman's earnings belong legally to her husband, and not to herself and may be seized by her husband's creditors to meet his debts. In Florida a husband is entitled to manage and control the wife's property. In Kentucky and Texas the husband can obtain a divorce more easily than can a wife. Examples of similar discriminations against women might be multiplied.

IMMIGRANTS ARE OFTEN SWINDLED

GOVERNMENT WILL TAKE STEPS TO PROTECT NEWCOMERS FROM THE "CON MEN."

LATTER FREQUENTLY ALIENS

By EDWARD B. CLARK

Washington.—A good many immigrants come to America to exploit this country, but it is also certain that some Americans succeed in exploiting some immigrants before they have been long on these shores.

The government's attention has been called to many cases of the swindling of immigrants which would be laughable if they were not in a way tragic. Means are to be taken to prevent the immigrants from becoming victims of Americans who know that they want and how to get it.

It is only fair to say, however, that in some cases of fraud practiced on the newcomers the swindlers are not Americans, but are natives of the country of the exploited, men who have been here long enough to learn a few tricks and who already know how best to attack the weak points of their fellow countrymen.

Not long ago a half interest in the Pennsylvania railroad was sold for $500 to two ignorant immigrants who had not been long in this country before they were parted from their money. James J. Wilson, who is a deputy assistant district attorney in New York, has said that more than $12,000,000 has been obtained from immigrants by what is called the "under water lots swindle." The immigrants are sold real estate which they are told is productive and finely located. When they go to look for their new bought possessions they have to sound for them some distance down under tide water.

Real Estate Swindles.

Many pieces of real estate are sold to immigrants who first are shown the property. The property is real, and the immigrants part with their money only to find later that the land belongs to somebody other than the man who sold it. Frequently, however, men who have an interest in property sell it to immigrants who later find out that the lots which they have bought are heavily mortgaged. In cases of this kind the sellers usually ask for comparatively small amounts of money, the reason being that they desire to keep the sum received under the grand larceny limit so if they are caught they cannot be sent to prison for felony.

Immigrants are not the only ones who are the easy victims of swindlers through games which it would seem that any person with a triding amount of common sense would understand were frauds pure and simple.

When the writer was a reporter on a Chicago daily he wrote a true story of a Michigan farmer who "bought" the Masonic temple in Chicago, valued at some millions of dollars, for $13,000, making a $5,000 cash payment for the building to two men whom he met on the street. He agreed to go back home to get the remaining $8,000 which he was to pay for the structure and to report at the same street corner the next day. Somebody in his home village heard of it and communicated with the police. The Michigan man was saved $8,000, but his $5,000 was gone.

Paid to See Building Turn.

Years ago in Chicago scores of visitors from here, there and elsewhere paid anywhere from 50 cents to $1.50 each to see the Masonic temple "turn round." The twenty-storied temple was at that time a show place. Men would approach obvious strangers on the street who happened to be looking at the structure to tell them that it was a building wonderfully contrived mechanically and that it would turn on a vertical axis at the touch of a button. They would collect the "sight fee," saying that they would go in and touch the button. That was the last seen of them, but the victims would wait for a while to feast their eyes on the vision of a twenty-storied structure making an "about face."

Everybody thought that this old game was a dead one, but within a week a visitor to the city of Philadelphia paid $5 to see the city hall turn on its axis. Ben Franklin, however, who surmounts the structure, refused to turn his back on the visitor who, after watching for a while, told his wits to the police.

A good many of the men and women who swindle immigrants are persons who come from the same general locality in the old country as that from which the victims hail. It is very easy for them to get acquainted with the newcomers, asking as they do about certain places in the old land and occasionally about certain persons who happen to be known in common. Americans going to Paris fight shy of Americans who try to scrape their acquaintance. There are plenty of Americans in the city of Paris who make prey of their fellow citizens.

Patriotic.

"The rapidly increasing divorce rate," remarked the wit, "indicates that America is indeed becoming the land of the free."

"Yes," replied his prosaic friend, "but the continued marriage rate suggests that it is still the home of the brave."

There are many more interesting stories about the immigrants in the news.

PLAN SURVEY OF FARM EQUIPMENT

A thorough farm equipment survey, the first ever undertaken in any state in the Union, will begin in Ohio next month under the guidance of the agricultural engineering department of the Ohio State university co-operating with the Federal Department of Agriculture.

When completed and analyzed the survey will give state and federal engineering specialists a picture of the labor and machinery situation in the state such as they never before have had, in the belief of Prof. C. O. Reed, who is conducting the survey for the university.

"In a word, this is the purpose of the survey: to give us an accurate, complete picture of the machinery and labor situation of Ohio," Prof. Reed explains. "From that will come information that will help Ohio farmers reduce their labor and machinery costs per acre. It will mean more economical production."

"It will show in what sections of the state, for example, more farmers could profitably use a labor saving device like the tandem hitch." We will learn that from the census on the kinds of plows most in use in the various sections.

The information brought out by the 50 questions on the questionnaire which will be sent out in January, will cover every corner of the state. The questions seek information on the kinds of machinery in use, how much power machinery is used, how widely electricity is in use in farm homes, and whether from home plants or central power stations. Most of the questions have a direct bearing on crop rotation and field practices.

If this Ohio survey gives a picture as complete as the engineers look for, the Federal Department of Agriculture contemplates putting the survey in every state in the Union.

MIDDLETON

A meeting of property owners, living in and near Middleton, was held Tuesday night at the garage to discuss the advisability of forming a local company for installing equipment for electric light and power. When included, the equipment would be taken over by the Harmony company and connected with its lines which now extend to the Phillips home on the New Waterford-Middleton rd. Mr. Towne, electrician for the rubber works at Columbus gave rough estimate of the cost, etc. He and Will Burn of Middleton were authorized to take the matter up with the Harmony company and also investigate prices for material, labor, C. S. French and family of Salem spent Sunday with Willard and Mary etc., and report to a future meeting. Blackburn. Lura Allmon was at home over the week-end. She has spent several weeks at the home of her uncle, Daniel Blackburn, who has been ill. Sidney Henderson of Paulina, Iowa, visited his uncle, J. H. Edgerton and E. L. Cope, over the week-end.

The Fairfield Township Farm Bureau met at the Centralized school last Friday evening and re-elected officers for the coming year.

They are L. J. Kirk, president; Mrs. Mary Farmer, vice president; Dallas Sitter, secretary. Lura Blackburn of Salem spent Tuesday night and Wednesday with relatives here.

The Friends School will give a literary entertainment Friday evening.

GEORGE'S INCOME IS GROWING

King of England Said to Be Making Money Through His Realty Investments.

From England comes a report that King George V has increased his income this year by several million dollars through his realty investments. It is said the greater part of that increase comes from the king's Regent street holdings—and thereby hangs a tale.

Many years ago, as the New York Herald reports the circumstances, Regent street was developed with a row of stucco houses which became the laugh of London because of their odd appearance. The wits of the town poked so much fun at the houses that no one would occupy them.

Finally the rents were lowered to such a point that people decided to pocket their pride along with the savings in rent and the buildings were tenanted soon for an average rental of about $100 a year.

Those who accepted the king's offer had to sign ninety-nine-year leases. The inequity of the contract became obvious as Regent street grew in importance as a business thoroughfare, but none of the successive rulers of England ever tried to force their tenants to pay higher rents. Bad business though it was undoubtedly, the rulers realized that law was paramount and neither sovereign nor subject could circumvent its provisions.

Now the leases are expiring and King George is reaping the benefit of renewals at current market values. Under the new leases tenants will pay as much a week as they did a year.

YANKS WIN THE FOURRAGERE

French Decoration Given to Organizations an Imitation of the Old Forage Cord.

The "fourragere" (originally a forage cord or rope used for tying hay or grain) is the French military decoration for bravery. Several generations ago the grain band was worn by soldiers as an ornament.

It is now a collective decoration which is conferred by the French and other European governments, a colored cord having been substituted for the band of grain, says the Detroit News. Fifteen American organizations were awarded the fourragere by the French government for heroic deeds in the World war. One of these, Section 449 of the American ambulance service, received four citations in orders of the army, and therefore was awarded the fourragere in the colors of the ribbon of the Medaille Militaire. The others were awarded the green and red fourragere of the Croix de Guerre for two citations.

In addition to these many other organizations had their colors decorated with the Croix de Guerre, but had not the two necessary citations in army orders to receive the fourragere.

Angler Fishes of Strange Forms.

The family of the angler fishes contains more strange forms than any other.

On the sea bottom and seeking prey by stealth, angler fishes are not powerful swimming muscles. The Detroit News, consequently, the size of the body and tail are considerably reduced, so they tend relatively to the size of the head, which is unusually large and strongly developed.

One of the back fin are very small and the forehead is provided with a flap of skin at the top, which is sensitive to touch, and plays an important part in the capture of food.

The Pilgrimage.

For the faithful followers of Mohammed to reach the Holy City on a pilgrimage they must be garbed in seamless robe, must have four baths before going to kiss the black stone, then travel seven times about the city, seven times running and four times walking, then must run up and down the side of the sacred hills, then must go to Mt. Arafat, stand on the summit all afternoon and repeat their prayers, then return to Mecca, on the way stopping at a village to sacrifice a goat, a sheep or a camel, then cast seven stones at each of several altars. Then they may shave and cut their nails, the pilgrimage having been concluded. —Ohio State Journal.

Dodging a Libel Suit.

"Mr. Strong has been in today and he had murder in his eye," said the city editor. "How in time did you come to speak of Mrs. Strong's alleged husband in that paragraph about her accident?"

"I did it to steer clear of a libel suit," replied Freshie. "You know, you told me always to say 'alleged thief,' 'alleged murderer,' and that sort of thing."

Revised Her Opinion.

"Oh, Mrs. Russell," said a woman who was entertaining a friend at tea, "when you called last week it was the first time my little daughter, Violet, had seen you, and after you had gone she said: 'Isn't she a pretty lady?'"

Mrs. Russell blushed.

The child, who was also seated at the table, broke in: "But, mother, I hadn't seen her close then."

Oldest Industrial Concern.

What is believed to be the oldest continually established industrial concern in the world—Sore Kopperberg-laga, in Bergen, Norway—is celebrating its seven hundredth anniversary. It was founded in 1223 to exploit copper from a mine at Falun, and has made continuous deliveries since 1225.

WHY INDUSTRY IS MISUNDERSTOOD

Geo. E. Roberts Tells How Co-operative Character of Corporations Is Obscured.

RADICAL AGITATION RESULTS

Maintenance of Present Industrial System Necessary to Maintain Present Standards of Comfort for All the People, He Says.

The modern industrial system is at bottom a co-operative organization, but this fact is obscured by the complexity of huge enterprises, George E. Roberts, noted authority on business and finance, declared in a recent speech before the American Bankers Association Convention at Atlantic City, N. J. "The primitive man knew that the harder he worked the more he would have," Mr. Roberts said. "When a man exchanged work with a neighbor he had the whole transaction under his eyes. But when a man works with thousands of others for a great corporation he doesn't see any definite relationship between what he does and what he gets. He doesn't know whether he is getting a fair share of the industrial results or not, and he suspects not."

"The modern industrial system is essentially co-operative, but you cannot have effective co-operation without understanding. Because people do not see the industrial organization as a whole we have the tendency for society to break up into groups and blocs and unions and organizations of one kind and another, many of whom are trying to advance their own interests at the expense of society as a whole. The population of this country today could not be supported in the state of comfort to which it is accustomed without the modern, specialized organization."

Bolshevism in Russia

"The extremity of social disorganization has been seen in Russia, where has been enacted the greatest tragedy in the history of the world. What happened there will happen everywhere unless there is a development of the capacity of people to work together and understand each other."

"In its final form the revolution in Russia was against what is called the capitalistic system, or the private ownership of property and direction of industry. The results of the revolution are so calamitous in Russia as to give a check to revolutionary tendencies in other countries. Yet the economic principles of Bolshevism are influencing public opinion more or less everywhere."

"The motive behind all this agitation is the desire to establish equality. The social struggles of the past have been for political equality. Now the demand is for equality in possessions, equality in incomes, equality in the management of industrial affairs. There is no argument against the aspirations of men for better social conditions, but radical ideas result from certain economic fallacies. One relates to the employment and services of private capital. Men read about vast sums of wealth belonging to individuals, and think of these sums as devoted exclusively to the owners. In fact wealth employed in production for the public market is rendering service to the entire community, no matter who owns it."

"The whole radical argument is like claiming that nobody ever got any benefit from the development of the steam engine but the owners of steam engines. Of course, the theory only needs to be stated for the fallacy to be apparent. The man who works for wages is benefited by every investment of capital which increases and cheapens the supply of the things for which his wages are spent."

The Service of Capital

"It is a fundamental truth that all productive property, although privately owned, is part of the equipment of society, by which its wants are supplied."

"The progress of the past has been accomplished under the individualistic system. The theory of this system is that every one shall have for his own, as nearly as may be, that which results from his own efforts. It is a system calculated to stimulate the initiative, call out the energies and develop the ability of each individual. He is free as to his undertakings; there are no restrictions except that he must seek his own gains by activities that are serviceable to the community as a whole, and he is inspired to labor, not simply by the desire for personal advantage, but by the desire to provide for loved ones, by the impulse to self-expression, to realize and develop his natural abilities, and by the ambition to achieve, to win distinction and to render service."

"It does not promise equality. Unless there is equality in production, in service, in effort, in resolution and in self-denial, why should there be equality in the division of results?"

"The justification of individualism, however, is not merely in what it allows to the superior individual, but in the results that inure to all. It is in the interest of all to secure the most effective organization, the most effective management and the largest possible production. These cannot be had by adopting the fiction that all have equal ability for any position, or by any other system than that which judges men by their individual qualifications."

FURNITURE PLANT HAS BIG ORDERS

The Franklin Furniture company of New Waterford, the only manufacturing concern of the kind in Columbiana county, is rushed with holiday business.

The bulk of the output is sold in Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania and the company is making a feature of delivering orders by truck instead of by rail on account of the saving of time.

This plant is the one formerly operated by the Koch Carriage Works company, which for years was the only one of its character in the county.

L. Frank Smith of Salem, is in charge of the furniture factory.

Woman Hurt In Auto Accident At Lisbon

Lisbon, Dec. 21.—Mrs. Frank Hogue escaped serious injury when she was knocked to the street by a machine owned by Miss Bertha Webber, operator of Lisbon music store at the corner of East Park Way and North Market st. last evening.

Mrs. Hogue was carried into the Al-bright shoe store and later assisted to the office of a physician where her injuries were dressed. Witnesses stated that the mishap was entirely accidental.

Rev. Kendall Decides To Remain In Lisbon

Lisbon, Dec. 21.—Rev. P. M. Kendall will remain pastor of the Lisbon Christian church for another year, he notified members of the church at the congregational meeting last evening.

"No," came the reply, "but I doot I've lost ma enthusiasm."

The New ESSEX

A SIX

Built by Hudson under Hudson Patents

Essex closed car comforts now cost $170 less than ever before. Also with this lower price you get an even more attractive Coach body and a six cylinder motor built on the principle of the famous Hudson Super-Six.

It continues Essex qualities of economy and reliability, known to 135,000 owners. It adds a smoothness of performance which heretofore was exclusively Hudson's. Both cars are alike in all details that count for long satisfactory service at small operating cost.

You will like the new Essex in the nimble ease of its operation. Gears shift quietly. Steering is like guiding a bicycle, and care of the car calls for little more than keeping it lubricated. That, for the most part, is done with an oil can.

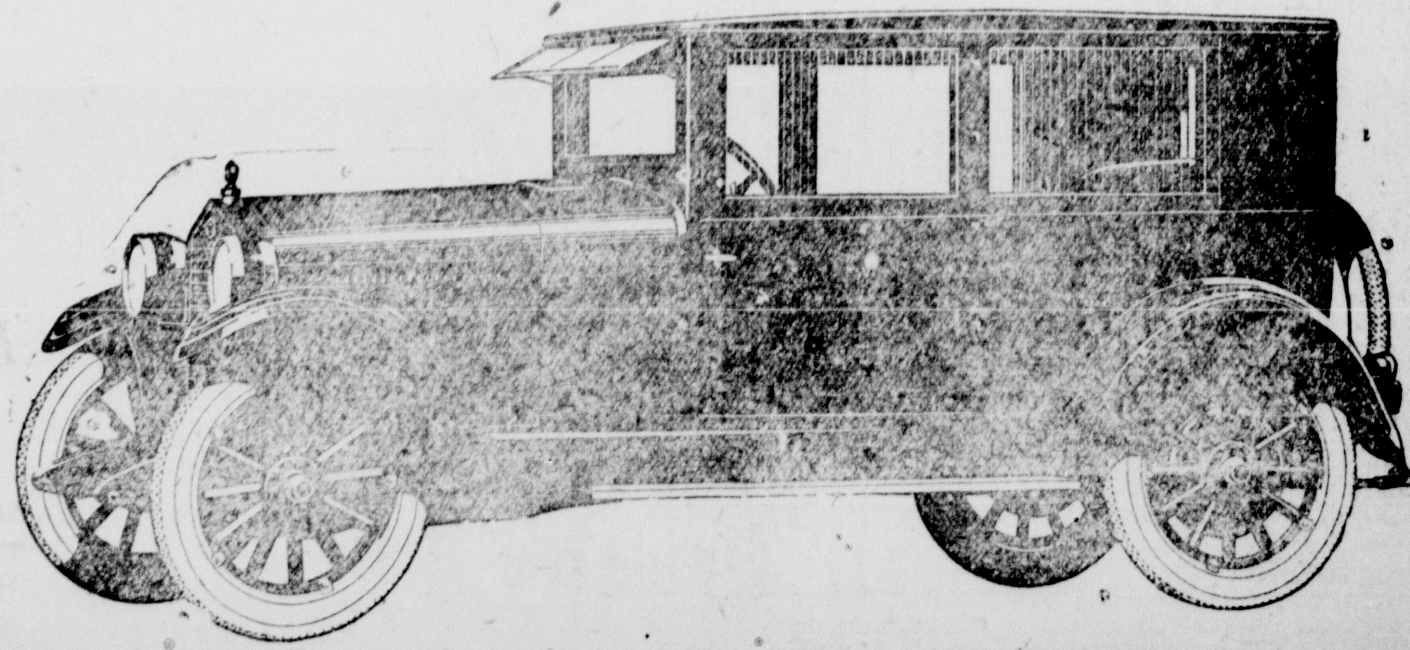

The chassis design lowers the center of gravity, giving greater comfort and safety, at all speeds, on all roads. You will be interested in seeing how this is accomplished.

Greater fuel economy is obtained. The car is lighter, longer and roomier. You will agree that from the standpoint of appearance, delightful performance, cost and reliability, the new Essex provides ideal transportation.

FESS FOR OPEN DOOR METHOD

Says Ohio Won't Stand for Hand-Picked Delegates.

DEMANDS LOCAL AUTONOMY

Hundred Thousand More Pupils Attending School in Ohio Since Passage of Child Labor Law—Former Governor Davis Would Abolish Capital Punishment—Cleveland Convention Hall Satisfactory.

Columbus, Dec. 20.—Republican politics in Ohio must be conducted on the open-door principle, according to Simeon D. Fess, junior senator from Ohio. He has taken a firm stand in favor of the greatest local autonomy for the various congressional districts of Ohio in electing delegates to the Republican national convention of their own choosing.

The senator in a statement issued at Washington says: "The day of hand-picked delegations is over, as far as Ohio is concerned. Never again will our people submit to some central authority picking out the candidates for delegates in each congressional district. That sort of thing doesn't go any longer in Ohio, and I feel it will not be attempted in the selection of delegates to the Republican national convention."

"The national leaders and the state manager for Mr. Coolidge's interests will not play a factional game, but will consult in each district the men who represent Republican sentiment and who ought to be consulted. There will be no attempt to make up a state slate of delegates in Washington or Columbus and try to force it on the Ohio voters this year. I am happy to say that I know there is no disposition to resort to any such tactics. If it were attempted, self-respecting voters would rebel. The politics of Ohio will be run on the level and local sentiment will govern in the selection of delegates to the national convention."

W. M. Butler of Massachusetts, who has been selected as national manager for President Coolidge, recently sent for Senator Fess and the senator gave him some very frank advice on the evils of hand-picked delegations. Mr. Butler responded with assurances that were satisfactory, it was said.

Members of the Republican national committee, who inspected Public hall at Cleveland, where the Republican national convention will be held June 10 next year, expressed themselves as greatly pleased with the size and convenience of the auditorium. National Chairman John T. Adams of Iowa, David W. Mulvane of Kansas, chairman of the committee on arrangements; General T. Coleman Dupont of Delaware, chairman of a subcommittee on arrangements; Lafayette G. Gleason, secretary of the convention, and James D. Preston, superintendent of the senate press galleries, all pronounced the auditorium perfect in its adaptability for convention purposes. Headquarters of the national committee will be established in the Hollenden hotel shortly after Jan. 1.

In a conference with Messrs. Dupont and Preston, Lincoln G. Dickey, manager of Public hall, was instructed in the few alterations required to hold the convention in the auditorium.

Seats for the delegates and spectators placed on the ground floor will probably be sloped toward the stage in order that all may see the speakers better. The visitors were all greatly impressed with the great beauty and size of the hall, the 50-foot high ceiling without a pillar obstructing the interior of the hall, and the beautiful lighting effects. Mr. Preston's comment was that it reminded him of an "indoor Yale bowl." The hall will not be decorated profusely, according to Colonel Carmi Thompson, chairman of the Cleveland convention committee. "Excessive decorations would spoil the beauty of the hall," Chairman Adams stated after viewing it. "A few American flags draped around the hall would be sufficient decorations," General Dupont said.

It is announced officially that authorities in school finance and school management will be called for conference by the Ohio State Teachers' association at its annual winter meeting here Dec. 26-28 to consider a report of an investigation made by the Ohio Institute for Public Efficiency regarding school finances in Ohio. Consideration of this report, according to F. E. Reynolds, secretary-treasurer of the teachers' association, will be one of the most important items of business before the meeting.

The report shows educational advantages vary to great extent in different sections of the state, based on financial ability of the districts per pupil. The representative assembly of the teachers' association, the governing body of the organization, will consider the Institute report. The body consists of 400 members and will meet three times during the convention—on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Persons who want anything know that The News is the Want Medium in this vicinity. So read it.

Dec. 20, and on Thursday afternoon and Friday morning.

Conclusion of the report of the efficiency institute declares changes in organization and administration possibly will have to be made before any efforts are launched to bring about comprehensive financial changes. Among such precedent changes are suggested:

Elimination of the smaller local school districts, which, it is declared, would tend both to equalize finances and to raise the general standard of management; strengthening of the state department of education as an agency of supervision and control; and improvement of the administration of the state equalization fund.

The report concludes: "A large majority of the counties of the state have had no general reappraisal of real estate since 1910, since which date there have been marked changes in real values. So long as the schools and other taxing districts of the state have to operate under the tax limit laws, they will be benefited by appraisal of property for taxation at its true value."

Hoke Donathan of Marion, in his first statement since his appointment as Ohio manager of President Coolidge's campaign for re-election, makes an appeal for support and co-operation. "President Coolidge is particularly strong in Ohio, and with his recent address to congress as an indication of his administration policies, he is sure to grow in favor," Donathan said. "The untimely death of President Harding gives added importance and interest to his state in the next presidential primary. We feel that President Coolidge has proved himself worthy to continue as the successor to our former chief."

Vernon M. Riegel, state director of education, announced that approximately 100,000 more boys and girls are attending school in Ohio this year than would have been possible had the Bing child labor law not been passed by the state legislature in 1921. It was also pointed out that marked progress in all forms of high school and elementary school work has also been possible through the workings of this law, and at the present time educational opportunities are available for every boy and girl in the state.

The provisions of the law which state that all boys and girls shall attend school until they are 16 years of age and unless they are regularly employed after they become 16 years of age, until they are 18 years old, not only keeps them in school longer, but makes possible more regular attendance in all parts of the state. This latter condition has also been the means of saving the various counties and school districts relatively large sums of money in their subsidies from the state, as 14 cents is taken from each district's subsidy for each day that a pupil is absent from school. It is estimated that this alone has saved the counties of the state several thousand dollars.

According to Herman Witter, director of industrial regulations, fatal industrial accidents in Ohio were cut nearly in half during the month of November, as compared with October. The total number of claims for November was 17,089, while October showed only 10,836. Death claims for November numbered 78 as compared with 122 in October. Claims receiving first hearing reached the peak in November, numbering 17,194. The number of claims awaiting initial hearing is 1,221 as compared with 1,296 in November, 1922. Mr. Witter said. Receipts of the workmen's compensation fund aggregated $611,557.18 and disbursements reached $901,565.10. The balance in the fund Nov. 30 was $41,174,835.34.

Dr. John E. Monger, state director of health, announced that he had entered into a contract with the United States Standard Products company of Kenosha, Wis., whereby all diphtheria antitoxin would hereafter be furnished through the state board. The price which will prevail to all county, township and other boards of health in the state, will be 65 cents per 5,000 units, as compared with a price of $3.50 per 5,000 units last January.

The new contract, which the director confidently expects will make possible the virtual elimination of preventable diphtheria in Ohio, is based on an estimated yearly use of 600,000 units. On this basis it will result in an annual saving to the health departments of Ohio, both state and district, of not less than $125,000 a year. Distribution will be by the contracting company direct to the health districts, county and city, through a central station and warehouse maintained in the laboratories of the state department of health on Ohio State university campus.

In a statement made at Akron, Harry L. Davis, former governor of Ohio described "how it feels to be governor the night before an election." He stated:

"I have said that when a man kills another man, the killer should be put to death. But I said that thoughtfully. The most unpleasant duty of a governor is to listen to the plea of father or mother for clemency for a son who is to die in the electric chair for murder. If we are going to kill all men who murder, let's kill the murderers. Those who have money and get good lawyers often escape the chair. Crime will not retreat if capital punishment is abolished. It has not in Michigan and would not in Ohio."

That Gobbler for Christmas

By CLARA DELAFIELD

They Just Could Not Kill the Bird They Had Watched Grow Up From Babyhood

But I dunno. He's the only one I've reared out of that brood, and I'm kinder attached to him."

However, he promised Mrs. James finally to let her have the gobbler. Silas Hicks was not a sentimental man. He was a farmer, and in business for the money, it brought him. He had a brother John, who had come to the city and made money hand over fist. John was a crusty old bachelor and largely devoid of the sense of family obligations.

There had been a time, five years before, when things went badly with Silas. There was a heavy mortgage on the farm, the crops had been a failure, and he had been in danger of dispossession. Besides, his wife was on her sickbed, from which she was never to arise.

Silas had gone in his despair to the brother whom he had not seen for years. John had turned him down flat. "Father left you the farm because you played up to him, and kicked me out into the world," he said. "Now I've made my pile, you have the nerve to come to me for help. I don't see it, Silas."

"My wife's sick," pleaded Silas, "and you've got more money than you know what to do with."

"Oh, I can find a use for it," John rejoined caustically. "Maybe if you'd shown a little sympathy for me when I was hooding it on the sidewalks I'd have a little more for you, Silas."

Silas went home. Somehow he managed to survive the crisis. But his wife died, and he grew lonelier and lonelier. If he had had a few thousand dollars he would have sold out and gone south to live, somewhere away from this bleak New England coast. But he could just manage to make both ends meet. Daily he cursed his brother in his heart.

He started raising turkeys, and that was a failure. Only the gobbler lived. He used to watch the bird with interest. The gobbler would come clucking after him for crumbs. And it was odd how it looked like John.

He began to call it John. It had a queer way of putting its head upon one side and calling, as John used to do when he was a boy. Gradually, to old Silas' fancy, the gobbler became an ally of John. He hated it.

He hated it, and he was attached, too. He made a sort of pet of the gobbler. He wanted it to love him, so far as a turkey gobbler is capable of love. Then, when Christmas came, he was going to cut its throat very slowly, bending its head back to see the terror in its eyes. He would thus have his revenge upon his brother.

"Yes, marm, John's thriving nicely and putting on flesh," he told Mrs. James. "Here he comes, John! John!"

Up came the big gobbler, put its head on one side and surveyed Silas to see if he had any bread crumbs.

"Isn't he the cutest thing?" said Mrs. James. "I don't wonder you can't bear to let me have it, Mr. Hicks."

"Oh, that'll be all right, marm," responded Silas cheerily.

An elemental hatred for the gobbler had come to fill his heart. Christmas was at hand. He pictured how, on the morrow, he would grab the bird, he would insult it with all the turkey abuse that he had picked up from it; then it should die slowly, as he would like John to die.

On Christmas morning he found a letter from an unknown correspondent in the city. Opening it, he read that his brother John was dead.

John had left forty thousand dollars, half of which was to go to Silas. "In memory of our boyhood times together, and in the hope that any ill feeling, if it existed, has long ago been canceled."

Silas stared at the letter. His eyes grew misty. He saw John again as a little boy upon the farm; his heart went out to him across the years.

Gobbler! Gobbler! The big turkey was standing in front of him, its head on one side, one claw raised, begging for crumbs.

"You great big faker, you!" bellowed Silas.

The gobbler, looking a little alarmed, retreated a step or two.

"Oh, Mr. Hicks, I'm willing to pay for that turkey, but somehow I—I feel I just can't eat him after seeing him grow up from babyhood."

"Wal, Mrs. James, I was kinder feeling that way myself," said Silas Hicks, scratching his head. "You see, I'm selling out and going south, and I was figuring on taking him along and raising turkeys."

GREAT COMPLIMENT IS PAID SALEM HIGH FOR SPORTSMANSHIP

Salem High has had praise heaped on its teams for many years, but one of the finest compliments ever given a school was the statement of a former coach of a rival county team, Rev. P. W. "Pete" Macauley of Lisbon, at the Kiwanis dinner Thursday.

To have played the game clean all season without a single black mark is an achievement worthy of note and much comment. That the Red and Black eleven did this adds greater credit to the records for the season and brings new laurels to the team.

It is a record that the school will always be proud of, and will always remember, because an outsider brought the information and because Salem High players see what an outsider thinks of the splendid sportsmanship displayed.

Another matter of great importance that transpired at that dinner was the election of a hard playing, good clean participant of the game, as captain of the 1934 eleven.

Al Sartick deserved the captaincy, perhaps not more than some others but he deserved it as much as any man on the squad. He is a keen student of the game and won himself a place on the all-county team by his great work all season. There simply was not a better end in the county.

Sartick is quoted as saying this at the banquet: "I am a very powerful power to make the 1934 team a success," and Al meant just that. He will give his all, as he did this year, to make Salem High in 1934 the best team in the county. Next year all hopes are for a championship, and Al hopes to lead the victors through without a defeat.

Players present who voted for their new captain, for a man to succeed Lester Crutchley as field general, were, Crutchley, E. Simmonds, Fisher, Duncan, Spiker, Yeungling, Corso, Houser, Cosgrove, Sartick, Volmer, Stalsmith, Coffee, Boya, V. Judge, Bingham and Konert. Manager Carl Howell and Assistant Manager Ralph Zimmerman were also present.

A captain for the basketball team will be chosen before the first game by the letter men.

Ohio Now Leads The Nation In Harness Racing Sport

Although this is not necessarily a booster day on the sport calendar the writer has another boost to add to the ones on the page. It is in the matter of harness racing, a sport that flourished at the Salem Driving park not so many years ago and now flourishes in big heaps at Lisbon, East Palestine and other surrounding towns, as well as all over the nation.

Ohio leads the country in this sport. Columbus, Cleveland and other cities have made harness racing a major sport in this country. In Ohio all the best horses of the Grand and Short Spur circuits as well as countless lesser lights, race during the summer in successful meets.

It is estimated that there is an average of 11 race meets a week between the middle of August and Oct.

Many are small fairs, many are circuit affairs. But all bring fans to each year in different parts of Ohio.

Kentucky formerly was known as the horse state of the nation. True the sport of kings, mainly the racers, do their best business in blue grass territory, but Ohio proudly takes the lead in harness racing and more interest is being manifested every year in it here.

Salem is unfortunately not able to see harness racing. There are hundreds of supporters of the game in the city, and all have to go to Youngstown or Cleveland to see meets of consequence. The county fair races attract a large crowd.

It is the wish of many that the old driving park was still in operation.

DRINK WATER FREELY IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids; to help cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate the sluggish kidneys also to neutralize acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink. By all means save your physician exam.

Rearing Wild Furbearers.

Important progress has been made in investigations pertaining to the raising of wild fur-bearing animals in captivity, says the Scientific American. Fur farms are reported from 25 states where foxes, skunks, minks, opossums, martens, muskrats, squirrels and beavers are raised.

It is estimated that 500 ranchers are raising silver foxes in the United States, that they have between 12,000 and 15,000 foxes in captivity, and that the value of the investment is about $8,000,000.

The discovery of the fact that martens breed the last of July and in August has solved the problem which has heretofore prevented the successful rearing of these animals in captivity and has opened up an important field to the fur farmer.

Again the Young Idea.

Two small boys were talking together on the beach.

"I say, what's your father?"

"He's an architect."

"Hub! mine's not. He's a soldier."

"My father was a soldier in the war, too."

"Hub, anybody can be a soldier when there's a war."—London Daily News.

Tenshun!

"You are not listening to me," complained Jane Muchmore at breakfast the other morning.

"I didn't know you had said anything, dear," returned the meek Mr. Muchmore.

"I haven't, but I expect to," said Jane.—Howard Conrant.

Proverbially Speaking.

"The Chinese are proverbially honest."

"People of all races," observed Miss Cayenne, "are consistently honest in their proverbs."

HOPPE SHOWS HE IS STILL A REAL BILLIARD CHAMP

Willie Hoppe is himself again. The young veteran of the billiard table disposed of Walker Cochran in the playoff at Chicago Wednesday night of the world's 18.2 billiard championship.

Willie was slated for the bow-wow by sport writers some months back. There is the rumor that some of these stories were for Willie's benefit, that he dropped from the limelight for awhile to revive interest in the sport of the ivory ball.

Perhaps there is some truth in that rumor. It did do the sport some good, as is an obvious deduction. But it is an injustice to Hoppe, unless proven, even if he did do it.

Hoppe demonstrated that he is the real champion, beat stories that he is a nervous wreck, to the contrary. Willie is a credit to the game and to him can be given a lot of the credit for the advancement of the game in the minds of sport lovers.

Groundless Fear.

"People are worried about having wireless airmen about their homes when these big electrical storms come," said a Detroit radio engineer, "but it really amounts to nothing. They never remember they also have telephone wires running into their houses, and they are theoretically more dangerous than the wireless airmen, because they are strung over a much greater space along the streets than the ordinary airmen."

EDDIE FOSTER IS THROUGH PLAYING IN THE BIG SHOW

Goodbye, Eddie Foster.
One of the greatest, although not flashy, infielders in baseball has been given his unconditional release by the St. Louis Browns, mainly because there is not room for him on the roster anymore, much as he is a friend and confidant of the team.

Eddie's middle name is fair play, and he has been known as the squarest player that ever wore a diamond uniform. He has been a credit to the game and fans all over the country, and especially in the Missouri city, are loath to see Eddie go. Perhaps he will manage some small team but he has seen his last of the big show.

Expect 500 Teams In Bowling Meet

What officials claim will be the greatest tournament in the history of the association will start Feb. 4 at Cleveland when 500 teams are entertained in the Ohio State Bowling meet.

The new Recreation hall on 13th st.

Smith runs the place and the association is honoring one of its most

It is doubtful if any teams will go from Northern Columbiana county, but East Liverpool will probably send several teams, as will other cities near here.

RADIO

(Edited by G. Douglas Wardrop, Editor of Radio Merchandising)

A Selective Portable.

There is an unlimited field for good single tube portable set circuits. Any regenerative type of circuit will give good volume on a single tube. The main problem is to use a type of tuning unit that will permit maximum selectivity. In the hook-up illustrated a variocoupler is used in conjunction with a variable condenser for the tuning unit—the rotor supplies the feed back of the plate circuit.

The circuit is not primarily intended for loop aerial reception, although one end can be connected to the antenna post, the other end left open, and a regular ground connection used. When so connected, some very good results are possible. If a straight wire aerial is used, a length of 50 feet can be thrown over a convenient tree. Of course this will not give the best results. If time is available, the wire should be suspended between insulators.

A copper rod driven into moist ground will give sufficient ground connection. This can be improved by soaking the ground around the rod with salt water.

The tuning condenser should have a capacity of .001 microfarad, to cover the increased wave length range. The rotating plates should be connected to the ground side. A blocking condenser of .005 microfarad capacity is inserted in the rotor circuit so as to avoid short circuiting the batteries through the plate circuit.

The grid leak can be of the variable type, but this is left to the option of the maker. The tube is a detector, although hard tubes such as the 6301A can be substituted. In such a case it may be advisable to increase the plate battery voltage. A cushion mounting for the tube socket is recommended, as a portable set gets considerable knocking around that does not help preserve the tube filament.

The rheostat resistance will depend on the type of tube used. If a 6301A, 6301A, or 6301A is used a 20 to 25 ohm rheostat is required. Otherwise the standard Gohm rheostat is sufficient.

Snap Fasteners Are Aid to Experimenters

The small snap fasteners for dresses that are sold in five and ten-cent stores for five cents a dozen may be put to a great many uses by the radio experimenter.

The accompanying sketches show a few of the uses to which they can be adapted. These fasteners make very neat binding posts and by using different sizes and different halves of the fasteners the set can be made so that it is impossible to connect it up wrong. By soldering one-half of the fastener on the phone cord and the other half on the panel with a common pin as shown, the phones can be plugged in quickly and if the cord gets a strong pull they will release and not pull the set-off the table. A very good multi-point switch can be made by plugging in a circle and also one at the center of the circle, and then with the two halves of the fastener soldered onto a strip of copper at a distance equal to the radius of the circle a switch arm can be made. The fastener in the center makes a good swivel and when the right point of the switch is found in tuning the other fastener can be

Use Telephone Jacks for Contact Switches

Another evidence of the cleverness of the radio amateur is the making of a compact and neat multiple contact switch for panel mounting from ordinary telephone jacks. Such switches possess the desirable feature of taking up a minimum of panel space, are easy of installation and require but one hole in the panel. Most of the telephone jacks are constructed with silver or platinum contacts, affording very low resistance.

In order to adapt the jack, it is only necessary to make a plunger of some insulating material, preferably of bakelite rod, of the approximate dimensions shown in Fig. 1. A hole drilled through the plunger as at "a" and having a small piece of stiff brass wire inserted in it, will prevent the removal or loss of the plunger when in the "out" position.

The uses to which such a multicontact switch can be put are manifold. The accompanying diagram shows the correct method of connecting it for changing the antenna tuning condenser for series or parallel connection, although other uses will no doubt suggest themselves to the experimenter. A further advance in panel neatness can be attained through stamping the head of the plunger with lettering corresponding to the use to which the switch is put, rather than engraving the panel surface.

Carborundum-Silicon Crystal Stand Model

For the construction of a carborundum-silicon detector, the parts required are one piece of silicon, one piece of carborundum (crystal form), one piece of wood 2 1/2 by 1 1/2 inches, one piece of spring brass 2 1/2 by 1/2 inch, one crystal cup, one brass bolt and nut 1/4 inch, one screw 3/8-inch long and two 3/8-inch flat head thread screws.

Bend the brass into shape as shown in the sketch, and drill one screw hole; also drill a 17-32-inch hole; solder the nut and drill 3-16-inch hole in one end of 1/4-inch screw; fill this with solder and set carborundum in the solder while it is still hot. The crystal cup may be of any model. The carborundum must set very hard on the silicon, thus preventing the spot from being lost. This type of detector will keep the spot through the heaviest thunderstorms, and one may even pound on the table.

Device to Make Your Headband Comfortable

Put the phones on the head and measure the distance from one adjusting screw to the other. Cut a piece of canvas 1 1/2 inch longer than this distance, and 3/4-inch wide with a hole in each end and fasten to the adjusting screws. The headband is then extended and the adjusting screws tightened, leaving the weight of the phones on the canvas strip while the headband presses the phones on the ears and at the same time leaves the user in comfort as the metal strips do not touch the top of the head.

HELPING OUT THE FARM WIFE

Missouri Woman in Charge of Home Economics Work of Department of Agriculture.

A Missouri woman has set out to make the lot of the farmer's wife easier. Dr. Louise Stanley, formerly dean of home economics at the University of Missouri, who recently was called to Washington to take charge of the home economics work of the Department of Agriculture, will conduct a series of studies this winter into the intimate problems of the farm house.

The work of the government in nutrition studies and reports on preparation of foods is to be carried on, but the Missouri woman will go into phases of home management neglected in the past, says a Washington letter in the Kansas City Times.

For example, here are some of the questions her department will study this winter:

How much would the farm wife contribute to the farm income if her manifold services were put down in terms of actual wages?

What textiles wear best in children's clothing on the farm?

If the farmer is to build a new house how should the kitchen be arranged for maximum convenience?

What sort of washing machine is cheapest for the farmer's wife to buy?

Doctor Stanley has submitted her program to Secretary Wallace and it has received his approval. She will make the studies in order of their relative importance to the homemakers on the farm.

"Studies of the cost of housing are at present needed. The cost of housing has increased to a relatively greater extent than any other element in the household budget," said Doctor Stanley. Estimates must be readjusted, and more definite information as to the relation of this cost to running expenses obtained.

"NEVER-STOP" TRAIN SYSTEM

Continuous Passenger Service is Demonstrated on an Experimental Track in England.

A demonstration was recently given at Kersland Gardens, Southend, London, of the "never-stop" system of continuous passenger service on a full-size railway, 300 yards in length, containing a 1 in 20 gradient. The line consists of two parallel tracks about six feet apart from center to center and the cars travel continuously round the circuit. The coaches, which hold 12 passengers, are propelled by a revolving spiral, laid between the tracks and carried on spoked wheels projecting from a massive steel tube. From the underframe of the coach depends an arm carrying two vertical rollers that engage with the spiral. At the stations the pitch of the spiral is very fine and between stations the pitch is very coarse. The result is that the coaches pass through the stations at a speed sufficiently slow to enable passengers to enter or alight from the car in the same way as they now board or leave an engine. As the car leaves the station it is rapidly accelerated up to a high speed and then smoothly but swiftly decelerated as the next station is approached. The cars pass through the section slowly and continuously, but on leaving they spread out and travel at a great speed until the station is again reached. The claim that under the system there is "no waiting" was justified, as during the demonstration the station was never without one or more cars passing through it.
